

What is claimed is:

1. A communication terminal apparatus for allowing data which is transmitted and received to/from another communication terminal apparatus to be monitored by a communication intercepting apparatus, comprising:

communication control means for controlling communication between said another communication terminal apparatus and said communication intercepting apparatus; monitor request recognizing means for recognizing reception/non-reception of a monitor request signal from said communication intercepting apparatus while said communication control means is connecting a call to said another communication terminal apparatus; and monitoring data generating means for, in the case where said monitor request recognizing means recognizes the reception of said monitor request signal, generating monitoring data including communication data which is transmitted to said another communication terminal apparatus and communication data received from said another communication terminal apparatus and sending monitoring data to said communication control means.

2. An apparatus according to claim 1, wherein said monitor request signal is received by said receiving means as an option added to a recall connect request signal.

3. A communication intercepting apparatus for monitoring data which is transmitted and received between a communication terminal apparatus and another communication terminal apparatus, comprising:

communication control means for performing a communication control to request said communication terminal apparatus to transmit monitoring data by using a monitor request signal and a communication control to receive said monitoring data from said communication terminal apparatus; and monitoring means for reproducing said monitoring data received by said communication control means.

4. An apparatus according to claim 3, wherein said communication control means transmits said monitor request signal as an option added to a recall connect request signal, thereby requesting said communication terminal apparatus to transmit said monitoring data.
